

Dental anxiety and phobia are common barriers to dental health for many people in our community. Training, certification, and the added procedure preparation of dental sedation are common barriers for dentists who want to offer their patients the convenience and comfort they need.

Dr. Jeffrey Schmelter is offering a unique service to several local dental practices:

Your patients can enjoy the familiarity of their dental home while receiving the sedation that enables them to move forward with the dental treatment you have recommended. Our committed, compassionate, and caring Mobile Sedation Team is specially trained to make your patients dental treatment comfortable and stress-free.
